Where Science Meets Consciousness Exploring Interconnectedness of Man and Nature

DECEMBER 11-18, 2015

Ayurveda unambiguously declares that every cell in the living being represents the universe, and that every aspect of the external universe can be seen in each cell of the living being.

Understanding the relationship between the microcosm and the macrocosm, leads us to the knowledge that can help improve both, our clinical practice and daily life, as well as the well being of our patients, ourselves, the earth, and beyond.

This conference will explore the following subjects in relation to healing and ways to improve the healing process through a deeper understanding of the interconnectedness between Man and Nature.

- 🌀 How jyotisha, the qualities and movements of the nine planets (navagrahas), the twelve constellations of the zodiac (rashis), and other celestial influences impact human physiology and experience. How to detect these influences to improve our relationship with them.
- 🌀 How sthapatyaveda or the science of “understanding space” improves interconnectedness
- 🌀 How gandharvaveda or the science and art of music and dance also improves interconnectedness
- 🌀 How tantra probes deeper into interconnectedness
- 🌀 How mantras and pujas propitiate interconnectedness
- 🌀 How yoga improves the mind and body

Ayurveda is the central theme around which all these discussions will take place. By imparting an understanding of individual and universal bio-rhythms and how they are interconnected, the conference aims to promote a holistic perspective of Ayurveda in living and healing.

The venue for the conference is Vaidyagrama, an Ayurveda healing village on the outskirts of Coimbatore bordering Kerala. Founded in 2008—on the foundations of the very principles being discussed at this conference—as an experimental, eco-friendly venture with one room on a barren piece of land, Vaidyagrama has blossomed into a veritable oasis to swaying trees and bird sounds. It now houses 36 rooms over 4 acres and can accommodate 75 patients.
